Static Compactors

Fully developed, tried and trusted technology, long service life and sturdy, low-maintenance construction are the outstanding features of HUSMANN compactors.

Due to their high compaction force, the volume of the materials to be compacted will be reduced considerably.

The compactors can be combined with containers suitable for all common lifting devices.

The compactor and container can be connected with each other by a coupling device which is simple to handle.

The compactors are delivered with the appropriate parts or machines (e.g. shifting devices, tipping devices, suction devices, etc.), they can be adjusted to every kind of application.
